

Normally I would think this would go to operations. But it occurs to me that we don't have a direct policy. I answered that I would forward to the board.

Karl

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: Maja Bombaugh LaForest <majalaforest@gmail.com>

Date: June 26, 2018 at 14:05:44 EDT

To: karldlove@charter.net

Subject: Questions on selling raffle tickets

Happy Sunshine on a Tuesday Karl,

This is Maja B. LaForest. I'm a member of the UU church and mother of Tenzin & Milo. I'm also a mom who's grateful for your daughter's time with my kiddos on Friday Pizza nights :) Anyway, I was asking folks about selling raffle tickets at church and it was suggested that I contact you.

Can you please tell me what the guidelines and/or rules are regarding the sale of raffle tickets at church? Specifically, I'm interested in selling raffle tickets for Human Nature School. Tickets would be sold in the autumn with the raffle winners announced at the HNS Hoedown on October 14th.

HNS is a local, non-profit organization. They're focused on our relationship with nature and with one another; their model is based on the current wilderness awareness movement. Programs are offered for both youth and adults.

If I can answer other questions you may have, please let me know.

Thank you for your time and consideration,
Maja